

You are Faithful Still

Michael Kendall

When I think about the Lord, my heart, it turns a way.
When I pray to know him more, my doubt, it brings me shame.

Please get my attention, please get my attention,
please get my attention,
speak through your word, speak through your word.

Prone to wander all the time, I've left the narrow way.
Your atonement like a friend that I have sent a way.
Though I am unfaithful, though I am unfaithful, though
I am unfaithful, You
are faithful still, You are faithful still.

My heart is dead, my mind alive, my thoughts they overwhelm.

Ground me, Savior, with the cross, and break my stubborn will.

And I will surrender, And I will surrender, and I will surrender, surrender to your will, surrender to your will.

When I hear your Spirit speak, I know you've heard
my cry.

Tears of joy will mark the day, when faith replaced my sight!

Though I am unfaithful, though I am unfaithful, though
I am unfaithful, You
are faithful still, You are faithful still.
